

HYDE PARK

It is better than a Voting Contest. The Putnam block is being re-painted. R. W. Hubbard is attending Supreme Court at Montpelier.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Noyes were visitors at Eden Sunday last.

Mrs. Lizzie White spent Sunday with friends at Jeffersonville.

Dr. A. M. Goddard and family of Albany spent Sunday in town.

Supt. Crosby spent the week-end with friends in Woodsville, N. H.

Miss Norma Strong has been spending several days in Woodsville, N. H.

The big blow of Sunday, Sept. 26th, has added greatly to several woodpiles.

Several from here attended the Grange Fair at Morrisville last Friday.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Leclair of this town Tuesday, Sept. 21st.

Miss Carrie Hubbard of Johnson spent a few days here recently with her friend, Miss Addie Foss.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Holbrook and Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Godette were visitors at Ferrisburg last Sunday.

Miss Emma Stickney of the Kurn Hat-tin Home, has been the guest of Mrs. Nora Scofield several days.

H. P. Crosby has rented the flat over Wood's store and in a few weeks he and his bride will occupy the same.

Dr. and Mrs. Wm. Bailey of Craftsbury spent several days here recently at the home of their brother, F. B. Noble.

Owing to a leaky street hydrant water was shut off on Depot street a part of Saturday and Sunday last while repairs were made.

R. S. Page started Saturday night on an extended western trip in the interest of the savings banks. F. R. Child of Morrisville accompanied him.

Mr. Agnes Conger, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Hubbard, the past two months, returned to her home in Rice Lake, Wis., last week.

Leon Keeler and wife, employees at the Hyde Park Inn, spent Saturday and Sunday at their home in Craftsbury. During their absence Fred Noble "helped out" in the rush.

Sunday, Sept. 12th, was the 75th anniversary of the birth of Vernon D. Fitch. He spent the day with relatives in the room where he was born and looked over old diaries and minutes pertaining to his ancestors.

Rev. Mr. McFarland of Cambridge will occupy the pulpit of the Cong'l church next Sunday morning, in exchange with Rev. Mr. Hamlin. Mr. McFarland is an interesting speaker and should have a large audience.

Mrs. Belle Kibbey, who has been acting as chef at the Hyde Park Inn the past eight months, has completed her work there and on Saturday returned to her home at McIndoes Falls, taking with her the best wishes of many friends.

Among the trees injured by the big blow of Sunday of last week was the handsome butternut tree on the triangle. This tree was set out by the late Chas. Strong in our centennial year, 1885, and was a handsome tree. Although badly battered it is hoped that it will survive.

Notice of Discontinuing Highway

Like Banquo's ghost, the lower road controversy will not down. The latest move in that direction now is a petition to the Selectmen of Hyde Park asking for the elimination of that part of the so-called lower road from the Terrace Finnegan place to that of John Ladeau, all in this town. We give herewith the petition in full:

WHEREAS—J. S. Leach, John Gray, John Minor and others, all citizens and freeholders of the town of Hyde Park, Vt., by petition in writing dated September 25, 1915 have applied to the undersigned, selectmen of said town of Hyde Park, representing that the public good demands that that portion of the so-called lower road in said town leading from the corner between where Gavin Tyndall now lives and the Terrace Finnegan place to a point in said road near the residence of John Ladeau be discontinued as a public highway and petitioning that the same be discontinued by the selectmen of said town of Hyde Park; Notice is hereby given to said petitioners and to all parties interested in said road or owning lands adjacent to said road or highway that the undersigned will on the 14th day of October 1915 make examination of said road and premises and will on that day at the office of B. M. McFarland at 10 o'clock in the forenoon hear persons interested in said road or its proposed discontinuance.

Dated at Hyde Park in the County of Lamoille the 29th day of September, 1915.

Thick and Thin Shells.

There are several kinds of high explosive shells, which have been designed for various purposes. For instance, there are the shells the case of which is very thin, so that their capacity for containing explosive may be increased. These explode instantly at the slightest contact and are used as mines, or, in other words, they cause damage not by the impact of their mass but by the fierceness of the explosion. Another kind of explosive shell is made by increasing the thickness of the steel case and reducing the charge of explosive. The explosion of this missile is calculated to take place a little after contact. This type is used for the destruction of solid defenses, like walls, earthen works, etc., as the thickness of the case and the slowness of explosion permit them to penetrate the fabric before exploding.—London Standard.

Two Gold Medals—Highest Award at The Panama Exposition, 1915

Glenwood Coal Ranges, Gas Ranges, Furnaces and Heaters, awarded Two Gold Medals, at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, San Francisco, Cal., 1915.

Glenwood Ranges are the product of New England's largest and best known foundry. They are designed by makers of life-long experience. They weigh more, are put together better and burn less fuel than most ranges. The castings are wonderfully smooth and easy to keep clean.

They are handsome, convenient and mechanically right—no modern feature lacking. Smooth cast, Colonial design, plain finish, compact structure, big roomy ovens, easy working grates and countless other features.

Owing to their sturdy construction and fine workmanship, they will stand hard usage, do better work and last much longer than the ordinary kind.

They certainly do "Make Cooking and Baking Easy".

Get one and make housekeeping drudgeless.

The Man in the Iron Mask.

The Bastille, whose fall July 14, 1789, marked the birth of French liberty, was built in 1339 to defend Paris against the English. It is as a state prison, however, that the grim fortress is remembered and chiefly on account of the mystery of one romantic prisoner, the "Man in the Iron Mask," who was "interned" there in 1679 and died in 1703. As to who the prisoner actually was scarcely two authorities agree, but among the almost innumerable "reclaimants" have figured the Duc de Vermandois, son of Louis XIV.; the Duc de Beaufort, a supposed son of Anne of Austria by the Duke of Buckingham; a twin brother of Louis XIV. and Count Mattheoli, secretary of state to Charles III. The last two may be termed the favorites.

Beetles of Prey.

Many beetles are bugs of prey. Predacious insects generally have wonderful appetites. The so-called "green fly," otherwise popularly known as "golden eyes," is, as a larva, a tremendous gobbler of plant life. It thinks nothing of devouring 100 of them, one after another, at a meal. Thus insects themselves do much to keep the numbers of other insects down. But not even with their aid nor with all our ingenuity in devising methods of destruction could we maintain a successful fight against injurious bugs were it not for the help given by birds.

A Foxy Reply.

One of the most caustic replies ever made during an election campaign was that of Fox when he called at a shop during one of his candidatures. The shopman happened to be a rapid opponent. Taking hold of a piece of rope, he said savagely: "Vote for you! I'd sooner hang you with this rope!" "Very interesting," remarked Fox blandly, examining the cord. "A family relic, I presume."—London Mail.

DISHES MEN LIKE.

Try this Spanish dish for the men people find see & they won't ask for more. Fry until crisp three strips of bacon, add a third of a cupful of rice, browned in the bacon fat; four large tomatoes, sliced; one large pepper and a medium-sized onion, all cut up and poured over the rice and bacon. As it cooks add water enough to keep it from sticking, and cook slowly for three-quarters of an hour; add salt and a small piece of butter when ready to serve.

Apple Dumplings.—Take two cupfuls of chopped apple, a cupful of sugar, a tablespoonful of butter and two cupfuls of boiling water; when boiling hot, add the following dumplings, made by taking a cupful of flour, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, a dash of salt, and three-fourths of a cupful of cream; mix and drop by spoonfuls in the apple syrup. Cover and boil 20 minutes without lifting the cover. Serve hot.

Corn Waffles.—Sift a pint of flour with two tablespoonfuls of baking powder, add a teaspoonful of salt and a cupful of milk and two well-beaten eggs. Beat the batter until light and stir in a can of corn; bake in waffle irons. Serve hot with sirup.

Chicken Loaf With Peas.—Dissolve a teaspoonful of gelatin in a cupful of chicken stock. When the mixture begins to set beat until frothy and add three-fourths of a cupful of heavy cream, which has been beaten stiff, then add a cupful and a half of chicken in dice. Season with pepper and salt and put into an angel-food pan with a funnel. When molded, turn out on a platter lined with lettuce leaves and fill the center with seasoned cooked peas. Serve with a rich boiled salad dressing or with a mayonnaise.

Oysters and Corn Bread.—Fry oysters in hot fat after rolling them in corn meal, well seasoned. Serve with a sauce made of half a cupful of catch-up and the juice of half a lemon, seasoned with sugar, salt and pepper. Serve hot corn bread with the oysters.

Nellie Maxwell.

Are You a Book Borrower?

Have you borrowed a book? Read and return it. If you cannot read it soon return it and trust to your being able to borrow it again. In keeping it an unreasonable time you may be keeping some one else from the pleasure of reading it may afford. Look over your shelves and see what you have there that should be returned. The man who should borrow so little as a quarter of a dollar from a neighbor and fail to return it would not invite respect. Yet it is quite as bad not to return a book or magazine. Who has not had anguish of heart to have some choice, dearly prized volume returned, soiled or torn, with pages lacking? That "Tom upset his inkstand" or "the baby got hold of it" or similar excuse does not mend the matter. The borrowed book should be protected from such accidents. What was worth borrowing is certainly worth returning. Certainly it should be clear in your mind that it is not yours, but the property of another.—Milwaukee Journal.

Rapid Pie Making.

The fastest machine devised for making pies is operated by a foreman and six assistants and will turn out 1,800 pies an hour, according to the World's Work. The machine is provided with eighteen revolving pie holders which move around an oblong table or platform; two crust rollers, one for the lower and the other for the upper crust; a set of four automatic moistening brushes and a pie trimming wheel. The six operators of the machine place the crusts, fill the pies and remove them from the table when the operation of moistening and trimming has been automatically completed. A smaller machine, the working principle of which is similar, except that the table is round instead of oblong, will turn out 600 pies an hour when operated by three pie makers.

Crippled Feet in China.

According to Chinese history, the custom of small feet among the females of China originated several centuries back, when a large body of women rose against the government and tried to overthrow it. To prevent the recurrence of such an event the use of wooden shoes so small as to disable them from making any effective use of their feet was enforced on all female infants.

TIME TO GET BUSY

Republicans Should Organize for Victory Now.

Immense Majority of Business Men of the Country Will Welcome Return of Good Government and Statecraft.

This suggestion is being pressed upon business men: "Organize for next year. You elected McKinley on a business issue in 1896, and you can elect a man in opposition to Wilson if you go about the matter promptly and in the right way. Stand together, and the fight's won."

The business interests undoubtedly elected Mr. McKinley. States which had always gone Republican went Republican that year by unprecedented majorities, while several states which had never voted for a Republican presidential candidate improved that opportunity. It was a victory achieved under a shibboleth which appealed directly to business interests, big and little.

The silver issue as presented by Mr. Bryan sent a chill up and down the spine of the business man wherever he resided. And the greater his own interests and the interests of others in his vicinity, the greater his quake. The threat of a fifty-cent dollar first upset him, and then nerved him to resistance. He came into action without much urging, and once in action worked with all his might.

Next year, however, the issue will not be so clear cut. Business is disgruntled, but on several accounts. Manufacturing has been hit by the new tariff. Corporations have been disgusted, both by the new trust regulations, and by the organization of the federal trade commission. Banking circles are not altogether assured of the efficacy in its present form of the new financial measure. While business unrest is general, it is not referable to any one thing. So that to write a platform, make a nomination and conduct a campaign bringing all business interests into line will be no easy matter.

Mr. Wilson won his nomination at Baltimore through the influence partly of his environment. Although he had made his peace with Mr. Bryan, he was accepted by many Democrats who three times had rejected Mr. Bryan because of his, Wilson's, residence and associations. It was felt that a man who lived in New Jersey, a manufacturing stronghold, and next door to New York, the great financial stronghold, would be safer in the White House than Mr. Bryan, who had come to distinction and influence in an agricultural belt educated on distrust of and opposition to nearly everything east of the Mississippi river.

But many of these Democrats are now either in open opposition to Mr. Wilson or sulking, and upon their number depends in a measure next year's result at the polls. Republicans must begin at once to prepare for victory.
